DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-40 are pending. Applicants amended claims 4, 6, 8-9, 12-15, 17, 19, 21, 28, 32-34, and 37-40 in a preliminary amendment.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- (i) Active dry powder inhaler device or passive dry powder inhaler device;
- (ii) Additive material or force control agent, which appear to encompass the same classes of materials;
- (iii) Active Agent.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election. A responsive election will elect (i) whether the dry powder inhaler device is an active DPI or a passive DPI, (ii) a single specifically disclosed additive material or single specifically disclosed force control agent, such as from those recited in claims 11 and 5, respectively), and (iii) whether the active agent is a (a) a small molecule or (b) a carbohydrate.

Art Unit: 1616

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

- (i) Claims 4-8 correspond specifically to a force control agent and claims 9-10 correspond to an additive material;
- (ii) Claims 12-13 specifically recite either an active DPI or a passive DPI;
- (iii) Claim 38 specifically recites that the active agent is either a small molecule or a carbohydrate.

The following claim(s) are generic: (i) claims 4-8 and 9-10 are generic for the force control agent and additive material, respectively; (ii) claims 1-11 and 14-40 are generic for whether the DPI device is an active DPI device or a passive DPI device; and (iii) claims 1-40 are generic as to whether the pharmaceutical agent is a small molecule or a carbohydrate.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: regarding (i) and (iii) described above each of the possible materials lack unity a priori, because unity is based upon the chemical structure of a particular material, and each of these materials represent grossly structurally divergent materials with independent and distinct chemical structures; regarding (ii) active and passive DPIs are fundamentally different devices, in that the former requires the user's inhalatory efforts to affect dosing, whereas as the latter assists the user through the use of pressurized gases, for example, thus, there is a lack of unit a priori between active DPIs and passive DPIs.

No call is necessary when the restriction requirement is considered to be complex or the Examiner has a reasonable expectation from prior experience that a phone election will not be made. MPEP § 812.01.

Art Unit: 1616

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
